

A GOOD INVESTMENT

Our friends are invited to deposit their money with us. Money is urgently needed for the erection of suitable buildings to meet the increasing demands for the work of the Salvation Army throughout the Territory.

A good rate of interest is paid every half year, March and September, and negotiations are treated with the utmost confidence.

In placing money with the Army in this way, depositors are at no disadvantage to themselves, while the money so loaned is being used for the extension of the Kingdom of God and the saving of souls.

Loans may be withdrawn at any time, in accordance with the terms of the arrangement made with the depositors.

For further particulars, write to the Financial Secretary, 20 Albert Street, Toronto, Ontario, marking your letter "Personal."

TRENTON, ONT.

A routing Salvation meeting was conducted on a recent Sunday by Captain and Mrs. Bell. One seeker came forward. On Monday, Mr. Adamant White, of Toronto, led the meeting and another seeker knelt at the mercy seat.

Preaching down never lifts up.

SONGS OF SALVATION

TRUMPET TRUST.

Tune—"Dread Lord," 103, "Ode to the Great Jehovah," 102, S. B. 67.

Blessed Lord, in Thee is refuge,
Safety for my trembling soul,
Power to lift my head when drooping,
I will trust Thee.
All my life Thou shalt control.

In the past too unbelieving
Midst the tempest I have been,
And my heart has slowly trusted
What my eyes have never seen.
Blessed Jesus,
Touch me on Thy arm to learn.

Oh, for trust that brings the triumph
When defeat seems strangely near!
Oh, for faith that changes fighting
Into victory's ringing cheer—
Faith triumphant,
Knowing not defeat or fear!

CONTINUAL JOY.

Tune—"How Old I'm," 179, S. B. 27.

Gone are the days of wretchedness
and sin,
Gone are the days of conflict fierce within,
Gone far away, no more my soul to know,
My Saviour's Blood my heart is keeping white as snow.

Gone are the days when a Saviour's love I quiver,
Gone are the times when from Calvary I turned

Gone, to be brought against me never-more,
My Saviour's Blood has brought my pardon, safe and sure.

Gone are the doubts of a soul that dared not trust,
Gone are the fears of a heart by sorrow crushed;
Gone, by the Blood swept far from me
away,
And now I live in constant venture sight and day.

A GREAT INVITATION.

Tune—"Make No Doubt," S. M. L. 135, S. B. 54.

Come to the Saviour, make no delay,
Here in His Word He's shown up the way;
Here in our midst He's standing today,
Tenderly saying, "Come!"

Chorus.

Joyful, joyful, will the meeting be,
When from sin our hearts are pure and free;
And we shall gather, Saviour, with Thee,
In our eternal home!

Think once again, He's with us to-day,
Heed now His best commands, and obey,
Hear now His accents tenderly say,
"Come to your Saviour, come!"

How Christ Saved Me

An ex-Drunard Testimony

I served my apprenticeship as the night staff of a newspaper during my custody, after I left work in the morning, to go with my companions—more for the sake of conviviality than anything else—to various resorts.

At first I drank in moderation, and continued to do so, for some years; but the drink habit gradually got a hold on me until at last it became master, and I realized I was a drunkard. My health became gradually undermined, and morbid fancies took possession of me. I was a misery to myself and my young family.

One afternoon—haunted me until I was afraid to be alone. I made attempts to give up the drink, but failed miserably. The craving was greater than my power of resistance, and I knew that unless something happened I should soon be in my grave. One morning, feeling ill and miserable, I cried, "Who can deliver me from this?"

On the table, near my bedside, I noticed a tattered copy of the New Testament that belonged to one of the children. I picked it up and began to read, but I found nothing that appealed to me, and was putting the book down again when I was startled by a voice speaking these words: "Then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved."

In amazement I opened the Testament again, and there I saw the very words I seemed to have heard spoken. The passage at which I had opened was Luke 8:12. Realizing that God had spoken to me I threw myself down and cried to Him for mercy and peace. Then I fell asleep, and as I awoke I seemed that Christ came and laid His hand on me. From that hour the desire for drink left me, and I have been a free man. What I have recorded happened on October 26, 1910.

WHAT COUNTS?

Did you think that trouble that came your way

With a resolute heart and cheerful
Or hide your face from the light of day?

With a craven soul and fearful?
Oh, a trouble's a ton, or a trouble's an ounce.

Or a trouble is what you make it!
And it isn't the fact that you're hurt that counts.

But only—How did you take it?

You are beaten to earth? Well, well, what's that?

Come up with a smiling face:
It's nothing at all you can fall down flat.

But to lie there, that's disgraceful.
The harder you're thrown, why the higher you bounce.

Be proud of your blackness, cry:
It isn't the fact that you're licked that counts.

It's—How did you fight and why?

And thought you be done to the death, what then?

If you battled the best you could,
If you played your part in the world

Why the critic will call it good.
Death comes with a crawl, or comes with a pause.

And whether you slow or speedy,
It isn't the fact that you're dead that counts.

But only, How did you die?

Nine Lost Opportunities

MANY men receive God's call to surrender all to His service, who realize their need and know the opportunity God is giving them. They know that in the service of God life would be more satisfactory and that greater happiness would be theirs. They are aware of the fact that their eternity must be spent in separation from God and Heaven, but they have bought a piece of ground, or a stock of merchandise, and their desire to succeed is greater than any other. The devil says they are too busy to serve God, and that it will hurt their business, so, forgetting that a man is in a better condition to do business or grow potatoes or drive cattle if his heart is right, they say, "Have me excused." (Luke 14:18.)

There are many rich men dressed in the finest, and who "fare sumptuously every day." All around them Lazaruses lay unheeded and unhelped. God sends His messengers. They hear the call, and yet do not heed, but so much time must be given to the entertainment of those who are well able to entertain themselves; so much money must be expended; so much money must be given to the poor, and the opportunity to help others is lost, and even the souls of those in their own homes are forgotten, and no thanks are rendered to God for His blessings until the last opportunity is gone and the "great gift is sealed." (Luke 16:19.)

What must I do that I may inherit eternal life?" asked the Young Man of Jesus; but when he was told that he must get rid of the world—the love of those things that perish and come and "take thy cross and follow Me," his vision of Heaven faded. He no longer saw the bright, eternal glory of God and the angels. He had kept the commandments; in his opinion he had nothing to be saved from. He did not expect Jesus would demand that which he valued most, and he loved his riches so much; they afforded him so much ease; now he must leave it all for a life that offered him no place to lay his head, and ended at Calvary. He might have gained the eternal life he asked for, but he let the opportunity pass and "went away sorrowful," for he loved the things that perish. (Mark 10:17.)

FOURTH.
The Unprofitable Servant did not have much ability. Many all around him were so much better, and able to do so much more, but he was able to do nothing more. He was given his life, but he did not use it so far as he was benefited; he would have been as well off if he had never met Jesus or received a chance, but God is just. It was too much. He might have been saved, but he was not. The Unprofitable Servant into outer darkness." (Matt. 25:12.)

FIFTH.
At the Great Wedding every guest was furnished a garment at the expense of the host. There could be no class distinction since all were provided the same. But he went in wearing his own clothing, his grand and haughty heart refused the opportunity to make himself acceptable. They had bought that his chance was as good as any others; he did about right. He had all this while; his fine clothes were the best piece of self-righteousness he could find. When the question was asked, "How comest thou in here, not having on a wedding garment?" how distasteful how out of place he felt! "He was excused," and they "cast him into outer darkness." (Matt. 25:11.)

SIXTH.
Ananias seemed to be well saved. His desire was that the Christian people should believe in him, so he sold his possessions and brought part, and gave it as all. It was his opportunity to be out-and-out for God. He could have given his all to Jesus, but in his heart he was a hypocrite. He lied about the surrender he was making, and came to sudden destruction; for he lied not unto men, but unto God, and "all they shall have their part in the cup, and they shall drink, and they shall be tormented." (Acts 5:1.)

SEVENTH.
"The wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life." Simon could not understand that the power of the apostles "had signs and wonders of that life." He had had a power that astonished the people, for by recovery he had bewitched them, but now was a greater power that of secrecy, and he wanted it. It was his privilege to go before God, looking at his record, receive by faith the power of the Holy Ghost, but he thought to purchase from man the gift of God. He soon learned that his "money" perished with him, and that he had lost his part in the eternal life even when he discovered that his heart was known, his desire was not to be saved from his sin, but to escape from the consequences of sin for he said, "Pray ye that none of these things come upon me." (Acts 8:18.)

EIGHTH.
They despised the Servants and sent them away beaten and empty, but the opportunity was given them to reverence the Son, but they "saw, thinking greater profit would come to them without the Son than with Him. Like them, men resist the servants of God, and crucify the Son of God afresh. (What will He do?) He will interpose and destroy those wicked men." (Matt. 23:35.)

NINTH.
The angry mob howled and cried, "Crucify Him!" and Pilate, sitting in the Judgment Hall, heard the accusation, went through the evidence and found no cause of death in Him. His wife had wept and interceded. His own judgment was carried. He knew what justice was; he might have given a decision in favor of Jesus, and submitting himself to the will of God, been saved; but he despised the suggestion of the people. To please them Pilate gave sentence. Jesus was led to Calvary, the thorns were placed, the nails were driven, the spear was thrust, the people stood beholding the victim, deriding him, the soldiers mocked him, the malefactor

Invited to Come

We are invited to come to the presence and glory of our Father in heaven, and to be saved from all unrighteousness, and to be made perfect in the love of God. This is the invitation of the Gospel, and it is the invitation of the Holy Spirit. We are invited to come to the presence of our Father in heaven, and to be saved from all unrighteousness, and to be made perfect in the love of God. This is the invitation of the Gospel, and it is the invitation of the Holy Spirit.

THE office of Christ, as "King of High Priests, and such a High Priest, touched with the feeling of our infirmities"—should be the ground of our confidence in all our approaches to the Throne of Grace.

Had we not a Mediator, we could have no boldness in coming to God, for we are guilty and polluted creatures. All we do is polluted; we cannot go into the presence of God alive; we must either go in the hand of a Mediator or our hearts and our bodies will fall off. But we have boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus, which was shed for the remission of sins.

WHERE FEARS VANISH

FEARS flourish in men's consciences. And so it is with worries, which are the prolific children of fear. They all grow fast and strong when life is lived in small and confined circles, and in the midst of close and narrow, fear things breed very fast, carrying out some of the deadliest of all diseases and finally a few of them take their toll of the human race.

When we are in the presence of God, all our fears vanish, and our hearts are freed from all bondage. We are no longer in the power of sin, but we are in the power of God. We are no longer in the power of the world, but we are in the power of God. We are no longer in the power of the flesh, but we are in the power of God. We are no longer in the power of the devil, but we are in the power of God. We are no longer in the power of the enemy, but we are in the power of God. We are no longer in the power of the world, but we are in the power of God. We are no longer in the power of the flesh, but we are in the power of God. BRAMPTON

Divisional Commander Leads Week-End Meetings—West Toronto Band Assists

August 13th and 14th will be a week end long to be remembered in the history of the Brampton Corps. On this occasion we were favoured with a visit from the West Toronto Band, Brigadier Walton, our Divisional Commander, and Captain Curry, Officer in Charge of the West Toronto Corps, accompanied the Band. Arriving just after 5 p.m. by motor bus, the citizens of Brampton were very soon aware that the Band had arrived as it came along the street playing a stirring march. Arriving at the Hall the Bandmen and their instruments were met by a band of brass and woodwind instruments. The musical meeting on Saturday night was a great success. The Band certainly did well. Among the items was a cornet solo, by Bandmaster DeLeonard, and a vocal solo by C. Boorman. Bandmaster Moyle recited, played the guitar, and gave a piano-forte solo. The other numbers were well received.

The crowning feature of the week-end was the musical meeting in Gage Park, on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Murphy, K.C., Crown Attorney, after making a few words and introducing the work of the Army introduced the chairman, a very warm and interested friend of the Salvation Army in Brampton, Senator Blain, who in a few well chosen words told the people he was glad to be there on such an occasion.

The crowd of seven hundred people showed their appreciation of the music by contributing freely to the collection. The Mass on Sunday morning was taken by Captain Curry and he impressed upon the people that the call of Christ should be heeded as the harvest was great and the labourers were few.

The Sunday night meeting was led by Brigadier Walton. Two hundred and two dollars was the magnificent sum for the week-end. Captain and Mrs. Lutton are the Officers in charge of the Brampton Corps.

HANOVER

Good Attendance at Meetings

On Sunday, August 7th, we had with us Captain Anderson from Guelph, and at night we had Bandmaster Wombell from Linwood, and Bro. Bailey and his two sons, from Chazy.

We had a good Open Air on Main St. Gulls a crowd followed to the Hall where we had a Salvation meeting. Captain Anderson and visiting comrades spoke.

On Saturday and Sunday, August 13th and 14th, we had with us Adjutant Wright, from Stratford. On Saturday night we had two Open Airs, large crowds listening.

On Sunday we had good meetings throughout the day. The Hall was filled at night. The Adjutant's address was very impressive. On Monday after the meeting had closed, sought Salvation.

The company meeting was well attended.

AMHERST

Corps Cadets Do Good Work

A very bright and interesting meeting was conducted by Harry Hanson and eight of the Corps Cadets last Thursday night. Each of the Corps Cadets had some part. The prayer meeting one young man raised his hand for prayer. The Corps Cadets and a band of Corps Cadets, the Open Airs, inside meetings, and Junior work they take a very active part. Corps Cadet McBride would be seen last Sunday coming along to the company meeting and bringing seven new scholars with her.

BYNG AVE., TORONTO

Good Attendance at Company Meeting—Eight Children Brought to Salvation

We are having some blessed times at this Corps. On Saturday, August 6th, we commenced our week-end with three running Open Airs. Some of the people were so much blessed that they came and thanked us telling how much they enjoyed the service and asking us to come back as soon as possible.

On Sunday, August 7th, we had with us all day Secretary Brown and

BISHOPS' FALLS

Two Hundred Seekers and Forty-five New Soldiers—Good All-round Progress

We have just said good-bye to Billings. Corps after a stay of nearly two years, (writes Adjutant Bowering). During our command over two hundred persons have knelt at the mercy seat. Forty-five names have been added to the roll and something like $1,000.00 has been spent for the benefit of the Corps.

MOUNT FOREST

Thirty Seekers Since Opening of Corps—Novel Sunday Lessons

The Officers here praise God for the thirty seekers in the five weeks since the Corps was opened. On Sunday last we had with us Young People's Treasurer, Bro. from Stratford.

Brother Brew's Bible talks illustrated on a well equipped and very greatly enjoyed by all. Naomi and Ruth, The Good Samaritan, Jacob and his ladder, Joseph were the subjects of these interesting lessons during the Sunday. This was quite a novelty to the people of Mount Forest and as one of the children remarked, "I could take the story in not only through my ears, but through my eyes."

In response to an appeal by the Captain in the night service following Brother Brew's lesson, one woman sought Salvation.

CHATHAM, N.B.

Attendance on the Increase—Many Are Seeking Salvation

The Sunday congregation here increased over fifty per cent during the last month, and souls are being converted and backsliders reclaimed. Capt. R. E. Parks and Lieut. H. A. Burrell are the Officers in charge. Last Sunday three souls knelt at the Cross, and many others were under deep conviction. The work among the young people has recently been reorganized and great interest has been aroused, with the result that we have had recent attendances. On a recent Sunday evening, twenty-seven came out for Salvation.

STRATHROY

Eight Seekers on Sunday

The Band was in charge of the week end meetings on August 6th and 7th. On Saturday night a rousing Open Air was held.

We started with 7 o'clock Knees-Drill on Sunday. In the Hall Meeting we felt much of God's presence. As usual the afternoon Open Air was held by two Bandmen from there they went on to the Hospital where their efforts were appreciated very much. God was with us in the night meeting and His Spirit worked in the hearts of many. At the close of the day we had the joy of knowing that eight had given themselves fully to God—E. Davis.

TRURO

Staff-Captain and Mrs. Burton led the week end meetings August 13th-14th.

The comrades of the Corps and local officers gave their cordial reception and were greatly benefited by their inspiring address.

On Monday evening the Staff-Captain conducted a meeting when two soldiers of the Corps, Elder Henry Corp and Bro. Albert Huber were united in matrimony. The Hall was filled.

LIPPINCOTT, TORONTO

The Sunday meetings were led by Adjutant and Mrs. Galloway. The attendance at the meetings is increasing.

We had a good Open Air in the afternoon, several comrades bearing testimony to what God had done for them. A number of Bandmen were present and their music was much enjoyed.

In the Salvation meeting we heard words of hope and blessing from Brigadier H. W. W. Mr. Adjutant Galloway and Captain Pease. After a stirring address and prayer meeting we were relieved to see and hear of local Salvation.

LISGAR STREET (TORONTO)

Five Seekers on Sunday

Last Sunday the meetings were conducted by Adjutant Trickey. The Band, Songsters and Soldiers rallied up in good form and a splendid time is reported with five seekers at night.

In the afternoon the Young People's Secretary, Lieut. Colonel Morrison, led an address and a most interesting Praise Meeting resulted.

Life Saving Scout Rally

is Held at Toronto Temple—Young People's Secretary Presides—Some Interesting Developments

A very good number were present at the general Rally of Toronto Life Saving Scouts, held in the Temple on Wednesday, August 17th. An enjoyable evening was spent, and the Fall and Winter program launched to a real good start. Lieut. Colonel Morehen, the Young People's Secretary, was introduced by Ensign Spooner, the Territorial Organizer as the Superintendent of the Life Saving Scouts of Canada East.

The Colonel spoke of his warm interest in the Scout movement ever since its inception, and said that his new capacity it would be his joy to give an undivided attention to the development of the Organization. He went on to speak of the cultivation of true Scout characteristics. Commandant Cameron and Staff-Captain Knight, Chancellors of the Toronto East and West Divisions respectively, also gave brief addresses, pledging themselves to push forward the movement by all means in their power.

A feature of the evening was the Scout Sing-song. Chorus thrown on the lantern sheet were sung with enthusiastic vigour. Amidst hand-clapping and cheers an announcement was made of the appointment of City Regimental Officers, and Capt. Watkin was formally installed into that position for the Toronto West Division by Colonel Morehen.

Captain Watkin, who has always been deeply interested in the Young People's Work, expressed himself as being desirous of doing his utmost for the Organization. A similar appointment is being made for Toronto East, which will shortly be announced.

An impressive part of the evening's programme was the presentation of the Life Saving Certificate, (second grade) to Scout Leader J. H. Rowley, of the Parliament St. Troop, who bravely brought a burning building and brought out a boy whose life was endangered. Three cheers were called for and given in true Scout style.

Following the announcements regarding the preliminary arrangements for the Young People's Demonstration in connection with the Fall Congress, the reorganizing of the Scout Leaders Training Corps, and other interesting items, refreshments were served.

In a devotional period at the close of the gathering, led by Ensign Spooner, an earnest appeal was made to the young men present to turn to Christ as their example. All present agreed that the gathering was a splendid success, and the work was expressed in similar meetings held at frequent intervals, and thus the means of maintaining increased interest and enthusiasm in the work of the Organization.

TORONTO I

Colonel Otway led the night meeting at a recent Sunday. One new soul was added to the ranks.

Youngs paid a visit on the following Sunday.

London Divisional Camp

Section of Life Saving Scouts and Guards of the World Have a Happy Holiday at Port Frank

THIS London Division has now a Camp for Life Saving Scouts and Guards, (writes Staff-Captain Penfold). It is situated on Lake Huron at Port Frank, about seven miles from Thedford. The buildings having been a hotel and annex, there is every accommodation for the comfort of those privileged to spend a few weeks there.

The dining-hall is spacious and by a good lunch, all the Guards rested for one hour and before returning to the Camp all enjoyed another swim.

Dr. and Mrs. Crichton had planned everything so that the Scouts and Guards would be able to get the greatest amount of enjoyment possible from their stay in Camp, and therefore provided games of tennis, football, and basketball.

Two tents were erected for rest and quiet; in addition to the two large weekendhalls. Several rowing-boats were at the disposal of the young people.

Every evening all enjoyed a "sing song," followed by evening prayers. Sunday was spent very profitably, meetings and study of the International Company Lesson being part of the day's program.

On Thursday, July 28th, we all enjoyed a visit from Colonel McMillan and Lieut. Colonel Morehen, and in the evening their addresses to the Scouts and Guards were most inspiring. The Staff-Captain related some of his experiences while in England recently for the Social Council, and the

Divisional-Commander Leads Rousing Series of Meetings Assisted by Life Saving Scouts and Guards

The little town of Sussex, N. B. fairly bristled with life on Saturday and Sunday last, it being the occasion of the visit of the Divisional Commander, Major Burrows, to the Life Saving Scouts' and Guards' Camp for the week end.

With the rest and attractive uniforms of the Life Saving Scouts, who were finishing Camp on Monday, and the Guards who had just arrived from St. John and Moncton to occupy the Camp grounds for the next ten days, the Boys Bugle Band, under the direction of Patrol Leader Sparks from St. John, the Life Saving Scout Brass Band, the open air meetings and parades etc., the whole town was astir and expressed much admiration for the young warriors enrolled under the "Arms" colours for the promotion and the soul, mind, body and others.

The Chancellor, Adjutant Owen, who is in charge of the Camp this year, had arranged for an excellent program, the Bugle Band, Brass Band, First Aid Demonstration, Life Saving Guards Quartet were especially good; in fact it would be difficult to determine which item was the best. The large audience gave evidence of real appreciation of the program as a whole, reflecting much credit on Life Saving Guard Leader Lane and the Scout Leader, Sergeant Major Curran of St. John Corps.

Major Burrows, assisted by the Chancellor, conducted three meetings in the Citadel on the Sunday which were well attended, the Life Saving Scouts and Guards taking an active part in all the services.

Very satisfactory arrangements have been made for the Camp this year. The Camp itself is located on the outskirts of the town. It has every modern convenience, electric light, shower bath, large hall for wet days, roomy dining hall, Officers' mess-room, cooking facilities, fresh milk and butter milk from the caretaker's residence daily, fresh vegetables, groceries, etc., from wholesale dealers in town, bathing facilities a short distance from the Camp, military tents, cots, blankets, etc., all of which make the life very attractive for the Scouts and Guards.

The military authorities, the Mayor of Sussex, Mr. Wallace, along with other citizens, were very kind in making possible the special arrangements for the comfort of the campers, not forgetting the latrines and motherly interest taken in the young people by the caretakers, Mr. and Mrs. Wilds.

NEWFOUNDLAND NOTES

Ensign Saunders who is on furlough at Western Cove is to arrive for camp for him to have a meeting which he did and twenty-five souls professed Salvation.

Major Gallaher two days after the Congress started off on a two-week tour with Adjutant J. Ebbary in the Bonanza Diavolo. He is now booked to sail for England on the S. S. "Bachan" from St. John's, on August 29th.

Burns has a new Citadel nearly completed, which will be a great building for many purposes. The building will shortly take place.

Henr's Delight has a new Citadel almost ready for opening. Lieut. Sidney Risout is working at top speed to get it finished.

The Guards' Signalling Class

Capt. Evans, of Petrolia, was given charge of Guard parades, etc., and also filled the bill.

Ensign and Mrs. Paulsen had charge of the cooking arrangements. The bathing and swimming parades seemed to be the most enjoyed of all and it was always with great regret the whistle was heard, which meant "come out" and not "in!"

One day when the weather was extra hot and trying, it was a happy thought of Mr. Penfold that the Guards should go "punching." It did not take long for the older troops to set to work cutting sandwiches and preparing a lunch, which they took to the beach with them.

After a dip in the water, followed by a swim, the Guards returned to their quarters.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

The Chief Secretary presided at a Musical Festival given by the Toronto I. Songsters at Earlscourt on Monday, August 21st.

Lieut. Colonel Bennett from Ennals, was a recent visitor to Toronto. On Monday night, August 21st, he conducted the meeting in the Temple.

FOR BANDSMEN AND SONGSTERS

Ex-Bandmen

How to Win Them Back to Duty.

The ex-Bandman is always with us a constant responsibility, and to some, a constant rebuke. The lack of winning him back to the ranks is no easy one, and so we welcome the advice of a Corps Officer who has had the joy of seeing eleven ex-Bandmen take up their instruments again. Such success he attributes entirely to the Band spiritual meeting which was made a live item on the Band's programme. Instead of dreading it as the occasion of a "recohesion" the men began to look forward to this monthly confidential discussion of their difficulties and victories. By giving them a helpful, instructive talk and then inviting them to speak on the line he had followed the Officer made the Bandmen feel that it was their meeting. Some since one or the other would re-consecrate himself in the little Prayer Meeting which followed.

The series of Meetings was commenced with a ten to which the ex-Bandmen were invited. Some men were in the habit of literally occupying the seat of the scornful at the back of the Hall, and a spirit which was most unhelpful in the Prayer Meetings. They came to the class were welcomed without restraint by the Bandmen who were sincerely anxious to get their comrades right again.

One by one they came, some in the Band spiritual meetings, invitations to which were constantly sent out, and some elsewhere until now eleven are back in the Band. This victory has been helped much by the good spirit of those who were Bandmen. The spiritual meeting helped them to pray, helped them to look kindly upon their comrades of previous days, and put into their hearts a burning desire for their restoration. This made itself evident in the new eagerness of the Bandmen to take part in the public Prayer Meetings and to recognize the fact that Salvation for others was far more important than the rendering of pleasing music. Nevertheless, as is always the case, their musical efficiency has increased. The Band is now a powerful influence for good in the Corps. Away for a week-end campaign they impressed all with their Salvation warfare and testimony, and as a result of their visit souls have been saved more since the campaign than on the actual day. The Bandmen have developed into public speakers to a surprising degree, and so are all round efficient in their work.

The question of the Band spiritual Meeting has been raised many times of late, and we would like other Bandmen, Bandmen, or Officers to write us regarding their experience in this vital matter.

Breaks in Life's Song

Some folk will say there is no music in a rest, but there is the making of music in it.

In our song of life, the music is broken off here and there by "rests," and we sometimes foolishly think we have come to an end of the tune. God sends a season of enforced leisure, sickness, disappointed plans, frustrated efforts, and makes a sudden pause in the choral hymn of our life, and we lament that our voice must be silent, and our part missing in the music which ever goes on to the ear of the great Master of Life's Music.

Not without design does God write the music of lives. But it is ours to learn the tune and not fall to properly "play" the reels.

HAMILTON I BAND

Visits Toronto—Their Playing Attracts Large Crowds—Business Men Preside at Festivals

THE open-air has ever been a favorite and successful lighting ground for Salvationists, as it affords an opportunity second to none to take the message of Salvation to many who hardly ever frequent a place of worship. Then visiting units in their own camp must depend on the message of the true child of God is aggressive in his warfare.

During the long continued warfare, Adjutant Long and the Riverdale Corps have been holding special meetings in the spacious Broadview flats and at the various gatherings large crowds have gathered and enjoyed the music of the Band and testimonies from the comrades.

Splendid Success

On Sunday last the Hamilton I Band, under Bandmaster MacDonald, in response to many pressing invitations, visited the Riverdale flats, where they were welcomed by the first note on Saturday night until the farewell at midnight on Sunday the campaign was a splendid success.

The Hamilton I Band is made up of splendid fighters in the Salvation war, and their ability as musicians is known throughout the Territory as such, that when Toronto Bandmen heard of the visit made up their minds to be present at one or more of the engagements. The Band playing throughout the week-end was fully up to the mark and many who crowded around the headstand and open-air meetings were loud in their praise.

A special motor ferry was waiting at the station for the Band and soon after reaching the Citadel I Band tea was provided.

The Citadel was full for the Musical Festival on Saturday night and Mr. W. H. Beall, who has manifested his interest in the Army on many former occasions, was Chairman. He paid a splendid tribute to the Army and its work and also spoke of his own happy relationship with the Saviour.

The programme, made up of the latest selections and marches was well rendered and most heartily received.

The 9:45 Band Prayer meeting was well attended; also the morning open-air.

Commandant and Mrs. Parsons, old Corps Officers of Riverdale, were in charge of the Holiness Meeting and a profitable time was experienced.

At the Broadview Field in the

MOUNT DENNIS

Ligar Street Band Gives Musical Festival

Following the first Sunday's Meetings at the Mount Dennis Corps, the Ligar Street Band returned on Monday night to give a Musical Festival.

The Hall was again filled to over-afternoon it is estimated that some twenty-five hundred people gathered in close proximity to the bandstand to enjoy the programme.

In the unavoidable absence of Mayor Charru, Mr. Hillson, a prominent business man of the East end, presided. In welcoming the Hamilton I Band, Mr. Hillson said: "There are several reasons why we should welcome this Band, but chiefly because they belong to the same Salvation Army as is in our city. We are greatly indebted to the Army for what it has done for the community and for humanity. They avoid all they can for God and the people."

"The Army has been greatly instrumental in making the world more like the Kingdom of God," he said, "and their message is in harmony with the Saviour's words when He said, 'because they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly.'"

The programme was all that one could desire, and under the beautiful blue sky with God's marvelous handiwork all voice for humanity to enjoy, the Saviour's voice must have been heard by many of the great crowd present.

So well had the Band played the "All's Well" selection on Saturday night that it was repeated by special request. Towards the close of the Festival the Riverdale Band united with Hamilton Bandmen and played the "Hallelujah Chorus."

Lieut.-Colonel Aday sang a solo.

Trudging Off to Work

The Citadel was packed for the Salvation meeting after which a short programme was rendered in the Park again. A larger crowd than that of the afternoon was present and many spoke of the blessing imparted through the sacred music. After a farewell cup of tea, and when the clock was near the midnight hour, the Hamilton I Band turned their faces towards home, knowing that in six hours many would be trudging off to work for the bread that perishes. All alike were happy in the knowledge that they had used their talents to the glory of God and as a result many were blessed.

Commandant and Mrs. Parsons worked hard during the week-end at the Riverdale comrades.

The memory of the visit and all that made it up to more than a compensation to one and all.

Following, Brigadier Walton presided and the Meeting took very much the form of a Private Service voicing our joy at the previous day's success.

The items were all well received and we returned home feeling that the Army had opened fire at Mount Dennis with a splendidly fought campaign, with firm discipline and a sure auguring well for future success.

How I Learnt Music

By a Songster-Organist
I should never have known about music by simply buying five or six practicing themes, and playing them on the piano or any other instrument to which I had become accustomed. It was only in getting a few text books upon the theory of music, and studying as much as I could to know the best part of my hobby (which can only be my study) that I began to understand what I was doing, says a writer of the Bandman, Local Officer and Songster.

After two years' hard study I entered for an examination held by Trinity College, London, and I was successful.

The more I know about music the more I wish to know, and my moments I have been giving to study of my music. At the same time, I do not neglect other duties for it.

My advice to those who would be students in this line is, first, to know as much as you can about the instrument you are studying to learn, and, as far as possible, master that first. Then study and learn as much as you can about the theory of music, and you will find, by careful study of music and the mastering of your instrument, that learning music is not by any means a dull and tiresome thing, as I thought it was at first. In time, by perseverance, you will be able to play in a way that will give pleasure.

When practicing, in your spare time, play plenty of scales and exercises for the continual practice of them will give you greater facility for playing difficult harmonies, accompaniments, and variations.

BOYS WE HAVE MET THE SPOILED BOY.

Almost every Band Leader knows him. He does not understand obedience, he proceeds in his life in a selfish, and often possesses parents as difficult to handle as himself. George is a specialist in dealing with him. The Band Leader must insist upon his conforming to all the rules imposed upon the other boys. Accepting help or sulking in the practice can generally be stopped by a firm display of authority, but no threats should be made without the intention of carrying them out. The spoiled boy is a trouble little person. He has been moulded in the wrong shape, and changing the formation of his disposition is a painful process. Of kindness, the Band Leader should not stop the task, but should be patient in the face of the boy's character. It is his self-opinionated disposition that makes him so difficult to handle. He does not seem to respond to kindness as do other lads, often taking advantage of leniency, but there is, after all, goodness at the bottom of his character. With firm discipline, but not harshness, he will be brought into line, and the best things a spoiled boy can possibly receive.

Make no haste to be rich, if you would prosper.

If anyone speaks evil of you, let your life be so that none will believe him.

Your character cannot be essentially injured except by your own acts.

JAPAN

Life Saving Scouts of the World Give First Demonstration.

The first Demonstration given by the Japanese Life Saving Scouts of the World took place in Tokyo recently.

The boys were most enthusiastic about the affair, and on the Friday afternoon about a dozen of them, under the direction of Captain Yamataka (the Territorial L. S. Scout Organizer) paraded the main streets of the city acting as soundwitness, a thing which is against the grain of the Japanese. Such determination and enthusiasm had its inevitable result.

The programme, in which sixty boys participated, was most interesting and varied in character, including such items as exhibitions of the firemen's lift, morse flag signalling, street "bridge" drill, rescue chair drill, torch drill, and a very effective camp fire tableau. The rope-bridge making is worthy of special mention, as, by means of their staves and some rope, a bridge was fixed from one side of the gallery to the other, along which it was possible for quite heavy boys to pass.

Sailors' Home at Trinidad

The splendid Sailors' Home at Port of Spain, the principal town on the island of Trinidad, recently purchased, has already proved a boon to seafarers visiting the town. The authorities appreciate this work is shown in the grant of £300 made by the Government towards the purchase of the premises.

The building, which has accommodation for 120 men and is situated in the centre of the town, is a great improvement upon the previous situation, where for many years a paltry and successful effort was made to meet the needs not only of the sailors visiting the town but also stranded seamen. Men of all nationalities have been helped.

HAWAII

Orphans Celebrate Mother's Day

There is a pathetic irony in the circumstance that the seventy-seven orphan boys who are inmates of the Sailors' Home in Honolulu, Hawaii, should celebrate Mother's Day, for this they did recently with all other Salvation Army children in the United States, for which it forms a part. Over 100 friends were present, and greatly enjoyed the proceedings. Music, of which there was abundance, was provided by the three Bands—Brass, Drum and Bugle, and Pipe—belonging to the Home.

The Home which was erected three years ago and handed over to the Salvation Army for management, comprises a group of well-built structures on a tract of land eighty acres in extent. Apart from the main buildings, there are Officers' Quarters, dining-rooms, laundry, dormitory, gymnasium, laundry, poultry farm, and hospital.

Combating Evils in Burma

The Salvation Army's Work of Prevention and Rescue Leads the Government to Institute Drastic Reforms

JUST over six years ago Brigadier and Mrs. Leih were sent from Calcutta to begin The Army's work in Burma, the largest of the provinces of the Indian Empire. Al-who speaks four or five languages and who made The Army her home, is a Candidate for Officer or Ship.

Mrs. Leih, who had personal oversight of the Home, frequently went herself into the streets and houses of ill-fame and rescued girls. Nothing was done for them until The Army came on the scene, but so great has been the influence of the work that the Government asked the Brigadier to supply Officers as women policemen to do preventive work in Mandalay, the second largest city in Burma. The Army's efforts have reached much further than the actual help extended to the women and girls, for the Government have been finally aroused to the full realization of the danger of this evil to the State, and have taken drastic steps to rid Rangoon of the peril. Whole streets, formerly occupied by people carrying on this traffic, have been cleared out, and a new paved making it a punishable offence to carry on such a mode of living. This decision has greatly strengthened the hands of our comrades, who in the past have met with considerable opposition from interested parties. Indeed, Mrs. Leih has more than once had to carry her life in her hands when going into the haunts of vice to protect the poor creatures kept in bondage, many of whom were no more than children.

Handfuls of girls are each year imported into Burma from China and Japan and sold for immoral purposes. Among these unhappy creatures a splendid work of rescue and reclamation has been carried on by The Army, and during the past five and a half years 150 of them have been cared for in the Women's Social Institute, and afterwards placed in situations or happily married. A number of marriage ceremonies have taken place in the Home itself. Not a few of the girls have become Salvationists, and one, has entered into the streets and houses of ill-fame and rescued girls. Work Amongst Coolies

In Rangoon are situated under one roof the Central Hall, seating 500 people, the Burma Headquarters, and Corps Officers' Quarters. A second Corps in the city was opened on against the coolies who work in the mills and live in the lowest quarter. From the Central Hall work was also started in the Chinese quarter, and of recent months a No. III has been started.

GERMANY

Notorious Characters among Recent Converts

In common with many other German Corps, Lubeck, II, suffered greatly during the war, so that when Adjutant Sinitel took command there were only six Soldiers. The authorities forbade the Officer to hold Open-Air Meetings, and he was arrested for disobeying the order. Seizing the opportunity of a personal interview with the chief of police, the Adjutant explained the Army's aims and methods, with the result that permission for Open-Air services was granted.

Largely as a result of the interest thus created an Awakening took place, and at the end of eighteen months there were sixty Soldiers and twenty recruits on the Roll. Many of these were notorious characters, the Colour Sergeant had been a drunken woman who when the authorities could do nothing. Three of her children are now Salvationists, a daughter being a Corps Cadet.

Among the Soldiers of Berlin II is a comrade who was converted while a prisoner of war in London. He attended an Army Meeting and gave his heart to God, and since returning home, had become enrolled as a Salvationist.

CHINA

Infant Found on Rubbish Heap—Loving and Training Neglected

Concerning the children in the Army's Home in Peking some pitiful stories are told. One of the girls was found as an infant on a rubbish heap, but, thanks to the care bestowed upon her has developed into one of the sweetest of the children. Another girl is maimed a leg. When a child she was sold as a slave, and fell into cruel hands. One day, in consequence of an act of disobedience, boiling water was poured over her legs, and she had to be amputated. She is now a bright, promising girl, and very grateful for all that the Salvation Army has done for her; in fact, the little ones are full of gratitude. Several have professed conversion at the Meetings which are held in the Home, and one of the older boys has expressed a wish to become an Army Officer.

The month of June was set apart in the Great Call Campaign for a special effort to save the women of China, especially those who have sunk to the lowest depths. This month's feature is a special campaign against idol worship, which is the chief prey of the evil in the more enlightened parts of the country.

ed in The Army's work, and give it their presence and assistance in many ways. Just before Sir Harcourt Butler left for England on his retirement from the Governorship of Burma he sent Brigadier Leih a letter expressing his great appreciation, both personally and officially, of the work being done for all classes. One of the first things which the Incoming Governor, Sir Reginald Craze, did, was to get the Brigadier first hand particulars of The Army's activities.

THE WAR CRY

Printed for the Salvation Army in Canada East, Newfoundland, and Bermuda, by the Salvation Army Printing House, 18 Albert Street, Toronto, Ontario.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Opportunities at Hand

SAVATION activities grow apace. The weapons of our warfare are not carnal, hence there is no sword-sharpening in the literal sense, but instead all the rattling of steel blades we hear either on the march or in the field, which point to a fight being at hand. And not to one fight only, but several, and the Salvationists continue fighting force, consequently wherever they are they rightly engage in a spiritual battle, but several special activities come to mind as one looks out over the field, and they are worthy of note.

In connection with the Great Call Campaign the Salvationists are making, of course, will be continued with vigour and zeal, and opportunities new and old are being seized. In and around Toronto the crowd of people in the city in view of the Canadian National Exhibition will receive special attention, and from points at which the claims of God will be pressed upon the notice of the people, both outdoors and indoors. It is not too far to say that the Salvationists are expected to have some splendid victories will be forthcoming.

While this particular section of fighting is engaged in Toronto, the opportunity of waiting upon God on behalf of those consigned to these forces is open to every comrade throughout the Territory. Pray plenty! It goes without saying that this is something about which there can be no two opinions, either as to the need of prayer in an undertaking of this character, or the opportunity for successfully exercising strong and mighty faith.

Of wider scope than the foregoing, though naturally with much lesser crowds, will be the Harvest Festivals about to be celebrated shortly at every Corps in Canada East. One week-end for the Senators, and another for the Juniors will yield a harvest of opportunities for sowing the seed to the sower. It is in view of the thanksgiving which will be very properly rendered to God for His bountiful gifts, men and women can be induced to see how fitting is the occasion to start praying, and then only with their lips, but with their hearts, the outcome of these Harvest Festivals will be of value, beyond number.

And from this centre, as well as many others, prayer—earnest, fervent, believing prayer—in accordance with the promises of God, will be richly answered with His Holy Spirit those who take any share in the Congress that the blessings which follow shall be big and widespread.

How do the Congress dates affect you? Not a few comrades in various parts are known to have yielded making arrangements for October, or till the date of the Congress—October 11th—was definitely announced. If you are not planning to take any part in the Congress, the message you will do well to try.

A letter received from Headquarters from Camp, or Yarmouth, expressed pleasant surprise at the message with which an army of 100 extra "War Cry" was attended to. Speaking for the Department, which deals with this business, we can say they will be only too glad to give equally ready service to any other Officer giving them the opportunity. Cap. Friend, may well be limited in many quarters.

ROUND ABOUT HEADQUARTERS

After unexampled delays in connection with the delivery of the new "War Cry" printing press—purchase of which was made before over twelve months ago—it is announced that the press is at last in course of erection in the Printing Department at Territorial Headquarters, and will be ready for use in the next issue but two of this journal will be printed upon the new "Kidder".

This improvement in facilities for printing the "War Cry" will be taken advantage of to the fullest extent, and next week we hope to say more upon the subject.

An air of intense satisfaction combined with suppressed excitement pervades every office in the building. There is a happy announcement posted on the Notice Board. It is a cable from International Headquarters stating that Commissioner and Mrs. Richards are going to the Old World, August 17th, by the S.S. Albatross. "Well, I pray that our Leaders may be richly engaged in their work abroad, but several special activities come to mind as one looks out over the field, and they are worthy of note."

In Reply to Letter of Courtesy, Says He Is Well Aware of Work Done by Salvation Army.

THE following letter of greeting was sent to the Chief Secretary to His Excellency Lord Byng, on the arrival in this country to assume the post of Governor-General, on August 16th, 1914.

"Your Excellency, 'Will you kindly permit me, on behalf of the Salvation Army in Canada East, to offer you our most hearty and loyal congratulations upon your appointment as the Governor-General of the Dominion of Canada. 'The Salvation Army has, for many years, been fortunate enough to enjoy the very friendly and sympathetic interest of your worthy predecessors which we deeply appreciate, and we trust that our work in the future will be carried on in the same spirit as shall meet the kindly recognition of your Excellency. 'I am deeply indebted to you for the very friendly and important responsibilities which you have been called upon to assume, and I am sure that your Divine guidance and strength will be yours, and we trust that during the course of your term of office, you will be able to do much for the good of the Dominion of Canada. 'I am, Sir, very respectfully, Sir, your obedient servant, 'ARTHUR F. BLADIN, 'Private Secretary."

THE HARVEST FESTIVAL EFFORT AND THE ANNUAL CONGRESS

The Great Call Young People's Campaign and special efforts have been made for the coming year, and it is likely to be better than ever before. Of wider scope than the foregoing, though naturally with much lesser crowds, will be the Harvest Festivals about to be celebrated shortly at every Corps in Canada East. One week-end for the Senators, and another for the Juniors will yield a harvest of opportunities for sowing the seed to the sower. It is in view of the thanksgiving which will be very properly rendered to God for His bountiful gifts, men and women can be induced to see how fitting is the occasion to start praying, and then only with their lips, but with their hearts, the outcome of these Harvest Festivals will be of value, beyond number.

And from this centre, as well as many others, prayer—earnest, fervent, believing prayer—in accordance with the promises of God, will be richly answered with His Holy Spirit those who take any share in the Congress that the blessings which follow shall be big and widespread.

How do the Congress dates affect you? Not a few comrades in various parts are known to have yielded making arrangements for October, or till the date of the Congress—October 11th—was definitely announced. If you are not planning to take any part in the Congress, the message you will do well to try.

A letter received from Headquarters from Camp, or Yarmouth, expressed pleasant surprise at the message with which an army of 100 extra "War Cry" was attended to. Speaking for the Department, which deals with this business, we can say they will be only too glad to give equally ready service to any other Officer giving them the opportunity. Cap. Friend, may well be limited in many quarters.

NEWFOUNDLAND ANNUAL CONGRESS

Colonel and Mrs. Martin in Command—Delegates Received by Sir Alexander Harris at Government House—Well Attended Sunday Meetings with Many Seekers—Heart Stirring Officers' Councils

Inspiring Message from the General

FOR nearly a week Officers from all parts of the Dominion were gathered in St. John's for the first annual Congress for four years. On Saturday, previous to the opening of the Congress, the whole of the delegates were received by Sir Alexander Harris at the Government House. The reception was introduced by Colonel Martin and the Governor very kindly greeted them, and inquired of many about the prospects in their own portions. Following this came a luncheon.

The Welcome Meeting

The No. 1 Citadel was filled at night for the welcome meeting. After the preliminaries Colonel and Mrs. Martin each spoke words of welcome to the delegates. Then the Colonel called upon the Officers of the three Corps. Commandant, St. John's, No. 1, Adjutant Tuck of No. 11, and Captain Coker of No. 11, and then the Governor very kindly greeted them, and inquired of many about the prospects in their own portions. Following this came a luncheon.

The following Officers were called on to make reply: Adjutant J. Eberly of Bonaville, Adjutant March of Wellington, Adjutant L. Burre of Bonaville, and Adjutant Strickland of Bonaville. It was really an inspiration to hear these men speak so earnestly and so full of faith.

Sunday Night Services

The services at night were divided among the City Corps. At No. 1, Colonel and Mrs. Martin led, assisted by Major Gallaher, Staff-Captain and Mrs. Tiley and a large portion of the Citadel.

The Citadel was packed to the doors. After the second song, the Colonel called upon the Officers of the three Corps. Commandant, St. John's, No. 1, Adjutant Tuck of No. 11, and Captain Coker of No. 11, and then the Governor very kindly greeted them, and inquired of many about the prospects in their own portions. Following this came a luncheon.

Lecture on the Army

The Sunday afternoon meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church. Major Gallaher lectured on "The Past, Present, and Future of The Salvation Army." The building was packed. Dr. J. A. Robinson, acting as chairman, after the opening song, Mrs. Colonel Martin presided, and Adjutant March read the Bible lesson. Then the Citadel Singers sang.

Dr. Robinson said that probably his reason for being there was that out of the Citadel Singers sang. Dr. Robinson said that probably his reason for being there was that out of the Citadel Singers sang.

Have You a Cast-Iron Way with Souls?

By the Late Mrs. Colonel Brangle

Two prominent religious leaders, whom I could name, were so unsparring in their criticism and judgment against a notorious backslider, that their spirit, issues as surely as Christian-like as was his, in spite of their profession and outward appearance. At last one of them fell through gross immorality, and the other, caught in the same snare, practically followed in the footsteps of the man he had so fiercely condemned. We can only save ourselves as we keep the sweet spirit that impels us to 'deal gently.'

We should deal gently that we may save the backslider. Jesus loves him still, cooks him continually, and wants the moment he returns, to forgive him and cleanse him and restore unto him the joy of Salvation. And we must help him. But we shall not do so unless we deal gently. Harsh dealing would not win us, nor will it win him. Paul says, in writing to Timothy, 'And the servant of the Lord must not strive, but be gentle to all men, apt to teach, patient in meekness, instructing those that oppose themselves; if God peradventure will give them repentance to the acknowledging of the truth; and that they may recover themselves out of the snare of the Devil' (2 Timothy, 2:24-26).

This gentleness is not inconsistent with great firmness and unwavering loyalty to the truth. In fact, it is only when combined with these sturdy virtues that it commends itself to the judgment and conscience of the backslider and in likely really to win him from the error of his ways. While, on the one hand, hardness and severity will only harden the wanderer from God, on the other hand a gospel of guile will fill him with indifference or contempt. The soul-winner must not have the hardness and brittleness of glass or cast iron, but rather the strength and flexibility of the finest steel that will bend but never break, that will yield and yet retain its own form.

Holy mothers have in the long run more influence with the wilful boys and girls than the fathers have, not because the mothers are more ready to compromise principle and sacrifice truth, but rather because, while unwavering in their fidelity to righteousness, they mingle mercy with judgment, and a passion of gentle, unflinching love and tenderest solicitude with firmness and loyalty to the claims of God's perfect and holy law.

ARROWHEADS

God cannot use a conditional consecration.

Faith is always correct, but it can never be formal.

There is the touchstone of many pretentious things.

It is the soul and not the sentence that makes the sermon.

The wastes of wealth lead to the wall of want.

It is no use denouncing sin before you renounce it.

There is nothing pleasant about the savor of a dead deity.

Avoid temptation, through fear you may not withstand it.

China's Awakening Spiritual Light Dawning After Political and Economic Revolution

PEOPLE of the Western world fall generally to realize the sweeping changes that have taken place in China during the seven years following the outbreak of war.

Since the foundation of the Republic, modern cities have arisen, with broad well-maintained thoroughfares, a large number of electric plants have been established; whilst telephones, water-works, cotton mills, factories and well-drilled police are conspicuous features. Indeed, China is rapidly losing her Oriental features and approximating herself to Western life. China is also awakening spiritually. The General has for a long time recognized the possibilities for good which this great Eastern nation presents. 'Lighten China's spiritual, mental and moral darkness by true Christianity,' he once declared, and she will work out her own national salvation; and be a blessing and not a threat to the peace of the world.

Advent of The Army

With The General it is an unvarying practice for recognition to be followed by action, and in 1915 forty Salvation Army Officers, of various nationalities, were sent to Peking. The first twelve months were devoted, almost exclusively to studying the language, and within two years some of these pioneers were able to lead Meetings and gave simple addresses which were readily understood by the people.

At the present time, the work is firmly established in the three important provinces of Northern China—Chihli, Shantung, and Shanai.

Lieut. Colonel Browner, Chief Secretary for North China, who has been visiting London, had some hopeful news to tell of the work.

'Salvation Army methods,' he said, 'make instantaneous appeal to the Chinese, and the people listen with wrapt attention to the story of Christ. On every side kindness has been extended to us, and no longer does the Chinaman hate "the foreign devil," as in days of old.'

'The Chinese revel in the joyous abandon of The Army's singing. They like music, and plenty of it. Each Corps is eager to possess a drum. There are in China all the elements that go to make a thoroughly characteristic "Army." We are gradually introducing Western musical instruments, and the interest, in course of time, will be able to play upon them as freely and tunefully as do their European comrades today.

'Particularly pleasing is it to hear in the streets little children singing such songs as "Jesus loves me, this I know."

'And what of the Social Work, Colonel?

'Still in its infancy. But progressing; yes, progressing,' was the reply. 'We have established several Day Schools primarily for the children of our Converts, and I am firmly convinced that there is a great future for such institutions in China. Then, again, we have a large Chinese Industrial Home at Ching Tiao Fu, which was especially instituted for the reception of youngsters who lost their parents in the great floods of 1917. Moreover, thousands of refugees were then gathered into huts, fed, sheltered and cared for by our Officers; whilst during the recent terrible famine we have been feeding between 2,000 and 3,000 people twice daily in Peking alone.

'The President of the Chinese Republic sent us a donation of 40 dollars. The significance of that gift lies not in the amount, but in the fact that it is an indication of the official recognition of our work in the country. Wealthy merchants periodically send us donations; but I fear it will be a long time before our work is self-supporting.

'Not new to the Chinese.

'The Salvation Army is new to China, but not to the Chinese. In India, Ceylon, Burma, Japan, Panama, and the East Indies, the Chinese are well acquainted with The Army and its aims; whilst in the East End of London there has long been a Chinese Corps. In the United States and Australia we have also some Adepts. All this, of course, is helpful to us.'

Training the Children

Not long ago we were invited inside the Citadel, at the Salvation Army after a Sunday in the morning, and found the hallways in a state of agitation. Inquiries were made on one side of the hall and on the other.

'There, in a heap, lay the children's cakes, an apple, four minutes' rest from a Song Book, and a collection of chocolate wrappers.

'It happens every week in the hall-keeper. 'And the youngsters of the bunch in four years of age.

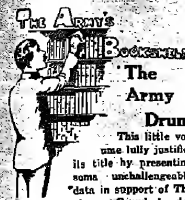

We left the Hall wondering if the parents realized the harm they were inflicting upon their beloved offspring. Small children cannot be expected to sit contentedly silent through long Meetings. We would as well grant ourselves to listen intently to a sermon in Esperanto. But they can't should be trained to respect our Hall.

So something more than their place in to conduct weekly cake-consumption chocolate-chewing, Song-Book-singing orgy. The parents are to blame. It is not to be expected that all should follow the example of the mother-of-six we saw recently. Her child was three weeks old, and she deliberately sought the seat immediately behind a band of forty, so that the child should 'start getting used to it at once.' On the other hand, in early training of children in habits of reverence should not be ignored.

Another fault often seen is that of following children's chatter over its seat. If the Sergeant-Major and his fellow Locals reach their place in the Sunday morning's Meeting by means of graceful vaulting over seat backs, nothing can be said to the children. But if the adults show due respect to this matter they can be taught properly.

Young People's Local Officers in doubtfully have the greatest power in this matter, and we would appeal to them to select their opportunities to both Senior and Young People's Meetings so that our children may grow up with a due sense of reverence for the House of the Lord—'Bondsman, Local Officer and Songster.'

Have order, system, regularity, practicality, and promptness. The 'Drum And' and 'The Village Drum' are two of the most carefully planned chapters, the latter having a delightful quaintness with its dialect and clever picture-drawing of a phase of Army fighting which was most useful in salvation results. The writer has weaved The Army drum into a beautiful pattern presenting many aspects of salvation conquest. Whether 'neath the forest shade of India, in the land of lakes and dells, along the cultured countryside of our own land, amid the voices of singing children, or in dingy slums and sprawling avenues, The Army drum has given its ringing invitation.

There he such a thing as spiritual growth—and there undoubtedly is—follows as a natural consequence that the man who has enjoyed the blessing of entire sanctification, say, for forty years, is able to give a somewhat different kind of testimony from that of the new beginner, who has possessed it for perhaps only a few months. The former can look back over a long experience of battles fought and victories won, each of which has helped to strengthen, in his character, all those qualities that make for goodness and righteousness. The new beginner, on the other hand, is only just commencing to understand, by personal, practical experience, the sublimity of the word, the flesh and the devil, and the almost infinite resourcefulness of the great arch-enemy of human souls.

SALVATION SOLDIER'S ARMOURY

PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE In Relation to Spiritual Development

Orders and Regulations
For Soldiers of The Salvation Army
No. 30—The Duties of Husband to the Wife.

Successful spiritual growth was told down by the Apostle Paul in his Epistle to the Colossians: 'As ye have, therefore, received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in Him.' Apart from Him no progress can be made by any of us, no matter how far we may have advanced along the path of righteousness.

We have already referred to the utmost infinite resourcefulness of Satan, and this is shown, perhaps most of all, in his readiness to tempt his temptations in the various stages of spiritual growth. He does not attack the 'seasoned' man in the same way as he does the new disciple. The latter, being comparatively unaccustomed to handling spiritual things and following spiritual pursuits, feels the sacredness of his calling, and the necessity of close communion with God and the study of His Word. On the other hand, the 'seasoned' man may have been for years in the regular habit of prayer, Bible study, preaching, or exhorting. There is an old saying that 'familiarity breeds contempt,' and perhaps it is somewhat along this line that the 'seasoned' man may look for his temptations. We once heard of a man, of almost world-wide experience and reputation as an evangelist, who, at the close of the day, would kneel down for a few seconds by his bedside and say, 'Lord, things are the same between You and me as they were last night,' and get into bed without giving the Almighty or His Word any further consideration. If that man could maintain a healthy condition of soul, and yet give no more time to close communion with God than that, all the writer can say is that he could not. There is a grave possibility of people allowing their familiarity with Divine things to take them in a wrong direction.

Don't Trust in Good Past
While a 'good past' is something to rejoice over, yet one must beware of the temptation, which is almost sure to come of trusting in that rather than in a present reliance of the power of Christ's cleansing blood and the indwelling of His Spirit, which alone we are kept in the way of holiness. A man's past may be either a means of blessing and encouragement to him, or, otherwise, a cause of defeat. It all depends on his way of looking at things. A retrospective view of our lives ought to inspire us to sing with the psalmist—

His love in times past forbids me to think He'll leave me at last in trouble to think Each sweet Ebenezer I have in review Confirms His good pleasure to help me right through.

Even in cases where, on looking back, we can see the path on which we have travelled all dotted over with mistakes, failures and defeats, we may, if we choose, profit in the present. The true condition of

He should keep her enlightened on all questions concerning the War, and on all other matters in which he is interested, and which may be instructive and profitable. He should do this, remembering that the wife is necessarily very much shut off from the outer world by the cares of her home and family.

He will develop her talents by pushing her up to the exercise of her gifts. The selfishness of some husbands, regarding the privilege of speaking, singing, and the performance of other duties, is most striking. They are over to the front on the platform and in the ring, while their wives sit by and are never asked to say anything. He should always consult her on questions affecting the interests of the family, both as it regards their temporal and spiritual interests, seeing that she must so largely share in all the consequences of his actions, whether it be for good or for evil.

He will show the reality of his love by nursing her tenderly in sickness.

By bearing with her infirmities. By hiding her faults.

By being generous and readily forgiving her when she may have done wrong.

By the exercise of a reasonable amount of patience if persecuted by her, in which case he should consider how many wives have to suffer the bitterest persecution from their husbands. It is only occasionally that this kind of treatment falls to the lot of husbands, and when it is so it should be endured with meekness.

THE SOLDIER SPIRIT

The ideal Soldier is never unkindness. If he is wrong he capitulates to truth and justice. If he is right he is invincible.

It is no sign that he is wrong because some one wants to cow him, or to see him, or to hurt him, or to hurt him. He gets his standard of conduct and speech from God, and not from men.

'O God, may all things work together for good to me! If it takes affliction, tribulation, persecution to bring me to Thee for greatest spiritual power—for this perfect preparation of my character to reign with Christ, I welcome it, Lord! Send me the best.' That is his daily prayer.

Persecution. Thank God for it! It won the martyrs their crown. It keeps true Christianity from stagnating. It develops true Christian character. It sends men to God for His power. It shows our dependence on the Almighty.

To have the Soldier spirit is to have that sort of a heart which will of its own accord choose a life of war. In order to save souls, he who has this spirit will not require to be driven on by arguments, but will prefer this course of life to any other; yes, it will be his delight. He would rather go out to fight than stay at home at ease.

How do you stand in relation to all this? Have you the Soldier spirit? Is it in full, complete display? Never was it more needed than now!

The Young People's Workers of Ottawa II Corps, with Captain Bellchambers and Lieut. Naylor, who have since fallen.

Promoted to Glory

Sergeant-Major Craig, Beckville, brief reference to our late comrade's sudden promotion to glory was made in a recent issue but the following further particulars are now to hand.

His sudden fall came while on his way to St. John from Beckville. Having friends in Moncton, he stopped off to see them, when on his way to catch the train, he was instantly killed. The remains were sent on to Fredericton for burial.

The funeral service, which was a very impressive one, was conducted by Adj. Miller. A large number gathered to pay their last tribute of respect to the deceased. Mrs. Adj. Miller spoke very feelingly of our late comrade's kindness to her when she was travelling to the bedside of her dying mother. Although it was a shock in the morning he met her at the train and took her to his home where she could rest until her train pulled out.

The procession, headed by the Army Colours and the Band, marched to the cemetery where we laid to rest the remains of our much beloved comrade. Our sincere sympathies are with his dear wife and child. Ensign C. Robinson conducted the Memorial service the following Sunday night.

Sister Mrs. Herder, Bay Roberts

Death has visited us at Bay Roberts and has taken us Sister Mrs. Mary Ann Herder, the mother of Sister Mrs. John Bowering, our Young People's Sergeant-Major. For the last fourteen years she had lived with Mrs. Bowering and passed a great blessing in her home. She was very quiet, unassuming and gentle in all her ways. Long before she came to Jesus and made Him her choice. Her trust in Him never failed.

Her life reminds us of the words of the poet when he says "How firm a foundation, ye saints of the Lord," her faith was firm, her foundation was sure, praise God for such mothers in Israel.

Mrs. Herder leaves two sons and a daughter in America, also a daughter Mrs. John Bowering in Bay Roberts to mourn their loss, also many grandchildren. To all we extend our sympathies.

PETERBORO

Adjutant Clayton and Ensign Laurie led the meetings at Peterboro 1 last week end. Eleven souls sought Salvation in the night service.

"TO SAVE AND TO SERVE"

How the Canadian Life Saving Scouts of the World Are Living up to Their Motto—Some Interesting Experiences.

SINCE the inception of the Life Saving Scout Movement in the Canada East Territory many of the Scouts have been killed in the art of rescuing lives. A life saving life. This side of a Scout's training is given special attention by their Leaders, many of whom hold St. John's Ambulance Certificates and Medals.

Law of Daily Lives
The "code of honour" as Life Saving Scouts term the Pledge and Declaration furnishes the law by which their daily lives must be governed. and in this Declaration (clause four) we read: "I promise to the best of my ability to acquire efficiency in the various methods of life saving—to be watchful for opportunities—to assist the weak, the aged, the needy, and to help others by all means in my power." It is therefore gratifying to note that the Scouts are more than simply learning how to act in an emergency, but have stood the test in such times and not only have rendered first aid in minor cases, but have rendered skilled assistance in saving life and property.

It is worthy of mention that many of these deeds have been performed at great risk, where the Scout himself has been in danger of losing his own life. On the front page will be found illustrations of deeds of bravery which have been performed by Life Saving Scouts of the Canada East Territory during recent months. Some of the acts of Life Saving are as follows: Scout Alexander Hurst of the 9th Toronto Troop was on his way to school when his attention was drawn by a cry from his companions, to a little child lying on the street car tracks in front of a fast approaching car. Hurst immediately realized that it would be impossible for the driver to get his car under control quickly enough to avoid hitting the child and pluckily rushed in front of the car, seized the child and brought her to safety, very narrowly escaping injury himself. A passerby, seeing the plucky act, complimented Scout Hurst and offered him a monetary reward.

stating that but for his presence of mind the child would have been killed or at least seriously injured. The reward, of course, was refused. The Scout then took the child home and arriving at school somewhat late was about to be punished for his tardiness when another boy who had seen the deed, explained the cause of his late arrival. The teacher then complimented Scout Hurst and readily forgave his late coming.

It is part of a Scout's training that he learns to swim. To pass the test for life saving a Scout must be able to swim well in his clothes. The need for this is well expressed in the lines: "Swimming in clothes will greatly tend to make you strong and brave, and that you may assistance lend. Another life to save."

If it is well expressed, it is even better illustrated by the following incident: A number of lads were in for their daily swim. One of the boys was a swimmer, though he would go out on a raft which was used as a diving board. This he did and after awhile drifted out into deep water. Finding he was in deep water and drifting out he lost his nerve and when trying to gain the shore in a hurry lost his balance and fell into the water.

Went to the Rescue
Scout H. Veisy of the St. Thomas Troop, seeing his plight and realising Kilewood could not swim, at once went to his rescue, but it was a hard struggle for the lad as his patient made frantic efforts to clutch him. Jack Shaw, another Scout of the same Troop saw this and also went to the rescue and between the two they brought the boy safely to shore.

Another incident which came to our notice through the Scout Leader of Hamilton 1, is as follows:—One of our Scouts noticed some garbage boxes on fire quite near to the frame kitchen of a house. He immediately jumped the fence, dragged the burning boxes away from the house and dumped them in the street, thus preventing the fire from spreading through the premises. The Scout, however, was not satisfied with this and the fire department was called. The Scout then went to the fire department and explained the cause of the fire. The fire department then went to the fire and extinguished it. The Scout then went to the fire department and explained the cause of the fire. The fire department then went to the fire and extinguished it. The Scout then went to the fire department and explained the cause of the fire. The fire department then went to the fire and extinguished it.

Fell into the Lake
Mr. William Glasford whilst on his way to work on the river slipped on a loose block and fell into the freezing waters of the lake. He was rescued by the Scouts of the 1st Troop who happened to be on duty at the time. The Scouts then went to the fire department and explained the cause of the fire. The fire department then went to the fire and extinguished it. The Scout then went to the fire department and explained the cause of the fire. The fire department then went to the fire and extinguished it.

Conducted Parties
Coming to Canada Under Salvo Army Supervision
Arrangements are being completed by the Immigration Department of the Salvation Army to specially conduct and assist a limited number of women and children, joining husbands and parents in Western Canada and British Columbia points, sailing from Liverpool on September 18th and on October 22nd.

The party will be grouped together on board ship and on arrival in Canada will be provided with sleeping accommodation in a Tourist Car as well as three meals per day. As nothing of a few extra "pennies" for Johnny and Mary on route. As experienced women Officers will accompany the party from Liverpool to help especially after their welfare. To ensure comfort and protection of the family party. The responsibility and worry of the journey is the young women travelling alone at the Army undertakes ensuring the welfare of the party, and protection of the passenger.

This new undertaking of the Army is another effort to assist in the local way, people who are unable to help themselves. Arrangements are being made for ordinary Conducted Parties to all Great Britain in charge of experienced Officers as follows: September 24th, Toronto; Sept. 25th, Montreal; October 2nd, Quebec; Oct. 14th, Montreal; Oct. 22nd, St. John's.

WHAT'S DOING AROUND THE WORLD

CRUELTY TO CAT

Magistrate Condemns People Who Leave It to Starve

People who abandon cats when going on vacation or drop them on the roadside far from home, display a callousness which should earn them the contempt of all right thinking people. A case which recently came up in court is thus described in the "Animal World":

"The male defendant said they did not want the cat. In reply to the Magistrate's Clerk, he said it was against his nature to take life, and he thought he would give the cat a sporting chance of getting another

"The Magistrate's Clerk: 'A very sporting chance. Why didn't you send it to the lethal chamber?'

"The female defendant said they thought of that when it was too late.

"The male defendant said he did not think there was any obligation on him to keep the cat."

"The Magistrate's Clerk: 'If you keep a cat, you must look after it, or get rid of it in the proper way.'

It is satisfactory to learn that the cats concerned were stilly fined. Let us hope they will be kinder to the next cat they have.

SUNSHINE AND FLIES

Effect on Hygiene in India.

In India there are fourteen billion people to every thousand of the comparatively short period of seven years. In announcing the formal launching of the project, made public at a dinner given a few weeks ago in New York in honor of the seventy-first birthday of Gustav Lindenthal, the designer, who has either planned or been consulted in the planning of practically all the important bridges of the country, the New York Times said:

"Plans for bridging the Hudson River with a structure suspended from two towers, each higher than the Woolworth Building, and having a capacity greater than the four East River bridges combined, were introduced last night by financial, commercial, and industrial leaders, at a dinner of the Hudson River Bridge and Terminal Association, Inc., at the Hotel Plaza. Ex-Gov. Alfred E. Smith, speaking for the Port Authority, of which he is a member, and Gov. Edward I. Edwards, of New Jersey, also introduced the project."

STANDS FOR JUSTICE

A delegate of the Imperial Conference of Teachers' Associations which met recently in Toronto thus expressed himself regarding British rule in India:

"The British Empire for us in India means a civilized and organized government by which justice is administered, by which religious and civil liberty is secured, by which the poor are protected from the oppression of the rich, the weak protected from the violence of the strong, the rights of the women and children are protected in India. We are proud of the record of the British Empire in India."

A Gigantic Bridge

RUSSIA'S PLIGHT

Millions on Verge of Starvation

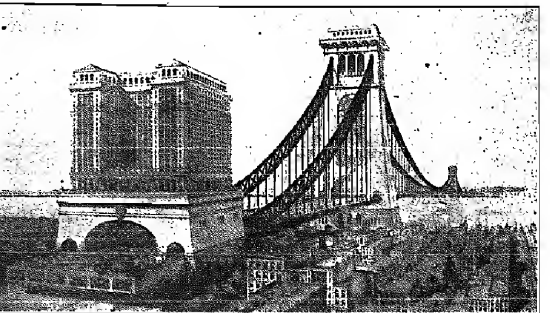

THE HUDSON RIVER BRIDGE, an undertaking beyond precedent in the history of engineering, has apparently been taken from the realm of conjecture and made an actuality by the recent announcement that a company has been formed to build it, and that plans have been drafted, the charter declared constitutional, and the work begun, with actual construction to be entered upon which, according to Mr. Rea, the Pennsylvania Railroad can not continue indefinitely to handle through the Pennsylvania Station.

"Mr. Rea said his interest in the proposal to bridge the Hudson River had not wavered since the plan was first outlined to him twenty-five years ago by Mr. Lindenthal. He said that the City of New York and the business conducted within it had grown so

The terrible situation in Russia is thus described by a writer in the New York Times. He says:—
"Millions of human beings are literally on the verge of death by starvation. It is a national disaster on a scale the modern world has never known outside of China."

"The accounts state that what is now happening in central Russia is a repetition on a gigantic scale of the flight of the French peasant popula-

How the Big Bridge will look

It will be a mile and a quarter long, with Towers taller than the Woolworth Building enormously within the last decade that it was imperative that this project should be realized if the metropolitan district were to hold its own commercially."

Details of Structure
More details of the immense structure, which will be by far the largest suspension bridge in the world, are contained in an article in The Scientific American, which compares the bridge by diagrams with other notable engineering feats, and gives the following statistical information:

"The main outlines of the bridge, as at present determined, call for a total length from anchorage to anchorage of 6,000 feet, divided into two short spans each 3,710 feet long, and a central span across the river of 3,240 feet. The roadway, 22 feet in width, will be suspended from four steel chain cables, each consisting of 80 lines of wire-rope arranged in three banks and encased in a water-tight tubular casing of bronze plating, whose diameter will be fifteen feet. The upper deck will consist of a broad automobile and motor-truck roadway 155 feet in the clear, and there will also be provision for two trolley-line tracks and two 17-foot walks for passengers. On the lower deck will be ten trunk railroad lines."

According to statistics compiled last year the average value per acre of occupied farm land in Canada was $48. In 1903 it was only $31.

tion before the German invaders. The roads leading westward are crowded with miserable fugitives whose wagons are piled up with household goods, children, and the aged, drawn by skeleton horses and oxen with bones showing through their skins. Thirst with all its horrors is added to the sufferings of starvation, and it is estimated that barely 5 percent of these unhappy people will survive the desperate journey."

"Even in Moscow the food supply, according to those just returned, is terribly curtailed. Statted herring and thin gruel of millet, wheat, and oats are the only food the majority has tasted since early spring."

"The regions worst afflicted by drought present a dreadful picture. Beneath a sky of steel gray the fields are parched and the wheat withered on the stalk. In the ground long fissures have appeared, until it seems to the terrified peasants that the earth herself is opening her mouth to swallow them."

SECOND HEALTH TRAIN

The Health Train which left Montreal recently for a month's tour of Quebec Province was not, as stated by an exchange and inadvertently reported by us, the first Health Train to operate in Canada. The Provincial Board of Health, Ontario, it will be remembered, had a Health Train touring the Province in 1911 and subsequent years, and during that period practically every town in the Province was visited.

SHEPHERDING A CONVERT

At the women-Cadets' Open-Air Meeting a man was earnestly dealt with as he stood on the outskirts of the ring. He eventually knelt down on the roadway, surrounded by a circle of praying Cadets, and claimed forgiveness. Although 'down and out' he had work to go to, possessing a railway pass to Morwell. Two of the comrades accompanied him to the 'William Booth' Memorial Home, where he was given accommodation. On the following morning two Cadets went to the Pinders Street Station and found the man already seated in the train. Down on their knees they went and offered prayer in his behalf, and successfully urged the man to do the same. They then handed him a letter of introduction to a Salvationist who was known to be working on the mine at Morwell, the train steamed out, and the two girls hurried back to the Garrison and to breakfast—McLaurie 'War Cry'.

Two Salvation Army Institutes for Seamen are situated on the Panama Canal and in these 154,000 meals and 18,000 beds were supplied during twelve months.

SONGS OF SALVATION

PRAISE THE LORD

Tune—"We're Marching to Zion, 70.
Come ye that love the Lord,
And let your joys be known:
Join in a song with sweet accord,
While ye surround His throne.

Praise ye the Lord, Hallelujah!
Let those refuse to sing
Who never knew our God,
But soldiers of the heavenly King
Must speak their joys abroad.

FAITH

Tune—"Ye Banks and Breezes," 111; "Magical," 117, 8 to 10.
Give me the faith that Jesus had,
The faith that can great mountains move,
That makes the mournful spirit glad,
The saving faith that works by love:
The faith for which the saints have striven.
The faith that pulls the fire from Heaven.

Give me the faith that gets the power,
That stubborn devils cannot turn,
That lion-teeth cannot devour,
That furnace-fires can never burn,
That never fears the tyrant's frown.

That wins and wears the martyr's crown.
Give me the faith that lives to trust,
That in the childlike spirit dwells,
That buries self and slaughters lust,
That keeps out all that 'Christ' expells.
That gives no quarter to the foe,
That sternly says, "You'll have to go!"

PRAISE

Tune—"Austria," 118; "He is Bringing,"
100, 8 to 10.
O Thou God of my salvation,
My Redeemer from all sin,
Moved by Thy divine compassion,
Who has died my heart to win,
I will praise Thee;
Where shall I, Thy praise begin!
Though unseen, I love the Saviour;
He hath brought salvation near:
Manifest His pardoning favor,
And within me death appear:
Soul and body
Then His glorious image bear.

While the angel-choirs are crying,
"Glory to the great I AM!"
I with them will still be yoking:
Glory! glory to the Lamb!
Oh, how precious
Is the sound of Jesus' name!
